CANNING CLUB GIVES LAWN PART

Large Attendance at Fete Held at Home of Mrs. John Steiner -Excellent Musical Programme Rendered.

Although not quite so largely attended as if the weather had been more favorable, still the lawn party held at the home of Mrs. John Steiner on Church street on Thursday afternoon was a success for the Community Canning club for whose benefit it was given. The grounds were prettilly decorated with the national golors, with baskets of beautiful flowers, and the various tables for the sale of candy, cake and ice cream. Mrs. Steiner also generously opened her house for the use of those wishing to play cards. Music was furnished between 3 and 6 o'clock by the Mandolin club, Misses Dorothy Gregson, Mary Lester, Mildred Cary, Dorothy Jones, Maria T. Gallup, Christine Gregson, May Isbister and Emily Latham, with Elizabeth Fillmore at the plano.

MORE MYSTERIOUS LIGHTS MOLTING SEASON IS AT FORT HILL BOTHERING EGG LAYERS Groton Residents See Flashes Again Leghorns Made Clean Sweep During 36th Week at Storre. Wednesday Evening.

The flashing lights about Fort Hill.
Groton were seen again Wednesday night. Electricians say the flashes cannot possibly come from the bridge at Mystic for the light at that spot is not strong enough and does not work in the same manner as the flashes at Fort Hill. One prominent electrician of the borough watched the flashes Wednesday night and confessed himself, to use his language, "strimped." The flashes are to the southeast of the top of the hill and the light is a very powerful one. The Picnic at Park—Trotter-McConachie
